Session introduction by Kona

Kona: Hi, good morning, I'm Kona Lisa Mahu with the Center for Planetary Management, and it is April 28th, 2026. I'm here with Jacques in France, Juan in Venezuela, Bob in Texas, and we are moving into our meditation. So, this is our time to quiet our minds, still our beings, so that we can connect with each other and the celestials who are present with us, the Celestial Planetary Management Team and others, as Jacques will mention in our meditation. So, take it away, Jacques.

Centering moment as a Team by Jacques

Jacques: My Friends, another beautiful Tuesday, full of hope. We have many things to do on our plate, so before we do that, just relax on your seat. Take some deep breaths. We start by connecting ourselves to the universe, by receiving this beam of light of Divine Love, coming from the universe center down to our crown chakra, going through all our chakras, down to the earth. We are connected with this beautiful golden light, healing light.

Now as humans, we connect our Heart Line clockwise around the globe, collecting those who are missing today, but they are still part of our Team. We then connect our Mindal Line counterclockwise, and as humans, we are encircled. We ask our Thought Adjuster to join us. We ask also the Celestial Planetary Management Team to connect with us: Machiventa, Sondjah and Asiah. We invite also the Midwayers, they really belong to this Earth since so long. We are pleased also to address our blessings and our gratitude to those on Sea of Glass and our Stellar Friends, communicate to other teams around the globe as well. We stay in silence for 3 minutes.

Juan: Divine Father and Divine parents, Christ Michael and Mother Nebadonia, first of all, we say thank you for the opportunity you give us to be here together as a Team connected with the Planetary Management Team, working co-creatively to solve problems and solve many situations that the planet requires.

We also thank the Planetary Celestial Management Team who is always with us and guides us. Amen.

Jacques: Thank you, Juan.

Kona: Alright, thanks, you guys. I do think we have a transmission from Sondjah.

Main Addresses by Sondjah

1. Equality and Spiritual Connection: A Message of Inclusion

Sondjah: Good morning, Team, this is Sondjah, as always, so happy to be with you, welcomed by you into this space to communicate co-creatively on behalf of our mutual Teams here together. What you have taken on in order to express our communications to humanity, to the world, is quite extraordinary, and we appreciate you consistently coming together, as we have told you before. It is no small task to make this commitment and keep it on a regular basis. And though we have mentioned this to you before, we do not want to lose sight of the fact that this is an important commitment that you have made, and you have our tremendous gratitude and appreciation.

We know that appreciation means a lot to humanity, to human beings, to mortals. To be appreciated is one of your greatest desires, and you have our constant, tremendous appreciation, and we wanted you to be secured in this again today. The subject that Machiventa has given you, which is to connect to your First Source and Center, to your TA, and to all of those that surround each of you, is quite important. It may not be received or well received by everyone, and that's okay. It's an idea that is being presented as a possibility for some people's lives, most people's lives, and those who will adopt this understanding will benefit greatly, and those who do not adopt it will not necessarily be negatively impacted. It just keeps them from some aspects of their lives that could run a little bit smoother.

So, let's make sure that this does not become hierarchical or a way of keeping people or identifying people as truth-seekers. Many true seekers will come through your organization, or read your magazine, without ever being able to fully connect to their TA, or the other celestials that surround them, and this is not to be considered a lesser or greater skill or aspect of their character. It is simply that they have not yet developed the skills to do this.

But remember, in your conversations around equality, that the Father regards all of you as equal, whether you can connect with your TA or not. So, please be mindful that you do not disregard those as lesser who have not yet done this or experienced this with celestials. It will be very important in how you write, and how you communicate to your audience. This is something that the Team [Celestial Team] wanted to make sure that you were cognizant of and aware of. Just because you accept us into your presence doesn't mean that everyone you encounter will also accept us into their presence. But we are ever mindful that the Father loves them as much as they love us, and they love you.

Any questions about this particular topic?

Group Dialogue & Discussion with Sondjah

Jacques: Bob, do you have a question for Sondjah?

2. Equal in God's Love: Embracing All Stages of Spiritual Understanding

Bob: Sondjah, I've been reflecting on the way people relate to celestials, and I feel this is an important point to bring forward. Many individuals deeply love God, yet they may not have a clear awareness or understanding of celestials as we do. However, this does not diminish their value in any way—they are just as important as we are.

This is less a question and more a statement of agreement. I fully embrace the idea that whether individuals are more or less developed in this area, they remain equal in worth. Every person carries the same potential for growth. And ultimately, it is not the level of development that matters most—it is the reality that they are beings who love God, and who are deeply loved by God.

Sondjah: Thank you for that comment. Just one quick piece of clarity. You can view many on your planet in the similar evolution stages from child into adulthood into elder years. And children learn at different stages, and some have more capacity than others to learn different things. Nevertheless, Jesus took unto himself all of the children—Jesus, Christ Michael, as he walked on the planet.

Bob: Exactly.

Sondjah: So, it is for you also to embrace all of God's children. Whether or not they can comprehend or even agree with some of the perspectives that you will be presenting. It is important, however, that we continue to present these ideas so that those who can comprehend them and understand them may partake in this aspect of the Teaching Mission, even, and the Correcting Times in order for us to move forward with the plan that we have for your planet with as many people as possible. Those who do not comprehend the work that we do will still be positively impacted. What is even more important is that their heart is pure and intent on the betterment of humanity and your civilization. So, once again, some will agree and understand, and some will not.

However, we love and extend our gratitude to each and every one of them that is awakening. And even those who are not. Thank you.

Bob: So true, so true.

3. Communicating Truth with Love: Ensuring Inclusion Beyond Belief

Jacques: Thank you, Sondjah. I remember, Sondjah, you have told us in the past, when we prepare article or magazine with clear intention to promulgate the truth, that the written word are vibrating, like a sort of subliminal message that would be sent out which will have a ripple effect on the world, so we bear this in mind while we will prepare this magazine. That's my comment. Maybe you can comment as well, Sondjah.

Sondjah: Thank you for that comment, and you can even be more subtle than that. And place into your articles the reminder that whether or not one agrees with the statements in the article, this Team believes that the person is loved by God and would not deny them access, or friendship, whether or not they agreed with the information presented. Subtle comments like that will let the reader know that this is not about discipling people into a belief system, but about sharing higher truths that are available to anyone, but their relationship with God as they know it, is not conditioned upon them choosing to believe the same way that you do.

Jacques: Thank you, Sondjah, for saying this. Of course, we will add a statement as you have said now in our magazine so that people understand it is not that we are creating a new religion, but we are to make people aware that they can connect with the celestials around them [and even far away from them].

Kona: Thank you for your acknowledgement of that. This is Kona. What I'm seeing in the magazine is our main article with the links, and then a statement right underneath that that says exactly this:

These ideas are presented by the Team with the understanding that your acceptance or lack thereof does not change who you are to the Creator, you are love by the Celestial Father.

Something like that, that is right there always in the magazine so that people can see it when they land on it.

Bob: It's important, yes.

Jacques: Good idea.

Sondjah: This is Sondjah, thank you for relating that vision piece to your team. That is quite right. We would like to see that statement very much accentuated within the work that you do, so that it is clear that the relationship building is the most important aspect of what it is that we are trying to communicate. It could be said that we are here and there is a plan, and that plan is to reconnect people to their Father Fragment. However, their acceptance of that is not a prerequisite to our relationship with them.

Jacques: Thank you, Sondjah. This is very clear.

Sondjah: If there are no further questions or comments, I will depart from the immediate presence, but know that I am with you, and the team is here observing and interacting with you as you work through your team meeting today.

Jacques: Thank you, Sondjah, thank you, Kona.

Sondajh: Thank you.

Group: Thank you.
